

NAVY LIEUTENANT WEDS ON DAY OF SHIP'S DEPARTURE

Sails on Oklahoma While Bride
Resumes Her Vocation
At Norfolk.

NORFOLK, Va., June 25.—Two hours before he sailed to sea on the battleship Oklahoma, Lieut. G. F. Hulse, had claimed as his bride Miss Ruth Davis, clerk of the accounting department of the Norfolk Navy Yard.

The wedding had been set for a previous date but Miss Davis became ill and spent sometime in a hospital. Her wedding day was also her first day out of the hospital.

The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Mitchell of the Oklahoma. Lieutenant Hulse had received orders to sail on the Oklahoma and he was anxious to claim his bride before his ship departed.

Lieutenant Hulse told me I was not able to go back to work in the yard, the young bride told a reporter, "but here I am again in harness."

Mrs. Hulse is from Santa Anna, Cal., and Lieutenant Hulse is from Alma, Michigan.

Plan for Registration

FREDERICK, Md., June 25.—Election supervisors are making plans for registration of new voters. They anticipate a rush prior to the September primaries, which will be followed by the county election in November, when practically every county office of any consequence will be filled. A large number of new women voters, who did not qualify at past registration days, are expected to turn out.

To Keep Skin in Fine
Condition All Summer

It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the heated term. Mixed with perspiration, dust and grime, these things are anything but beautifying. Ordinary mercerized wax will do more for the complexion and without giving an oily, streaked, spotted or pasty appearance. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps the pores clean but daily removes particles of dirt which have been soiled by dirt or weather. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white, satiny, it does more toward perpetuating a youthful countenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercerized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, will completely renovate the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning. To keep the skin from sagging or wrinkling, or to overcome such condition, there's nothing better than a face wash made by dissolving an ounce of powdered ascorbic in a half pint wash basin.

W. VA. GOVERNOR'S WIFE RENEWS SOCIETY GAYETY

MRS. EPHRAIM FRANKLIN MORGAN.

Wife of the governor of West Virginia, held the last of a series of informal receptions she has been giving twice each month at the executive mansion last Monday afternoon until fall. The change in governors in West Virginia last March marked a renewal of social activities at the executive mansion, these activities having been curtailed during the war period by former Governor and Mrs. John J. Cronwell.

Flappers Nice Girls Let 'Em Smoke, Dictum Of D. C. Sociologists

Is Washington a Godless city?
Is it worse than other cities?
Isn't it really better than most cities?

In the defense of the good name of Washington Congressman Paul Johnson of Mississippi offered a bill in the House to stop women from smoking in public.

Clubwomen charged girls wear too few clothes when they go swimming at the Tidal Basin bathing beach. Newspapers in big cities claim "flappers" loaf in the Government departments; that they powder and paint too much; that they keep worthy ex-service men and needy women out of work.

There are Sunday baseball and movies. There are "F" street "parades" and cake-eaters.

Is Washington a bad city?

Prominent clubwomen active in the civic betterment of the Capital and clergymen were asked the question, and this is what they have to say:

"NEEDS TO BE CLEANED UP."

"Washington needs a thorough clean-up; it needs to be reformed," said the Rev. Wilmer P. Johnson, acting pastor of the First Congregational Church.

"The conditions here should certainly be improved. I am not a blue law advocate, but I do not approve of the outfit in which the so-called beach beauties parade around at the Tidal Basin. I do not believe the girls realize the emotional effect such costume as the one-piece bathing suit has on the men."

"It seems to me we might begin with them."

The so-called flappers who are accused of loafing in the Government departments and painting and powdering too much are not really bad. These girls who are so much criticized are just impulsive. Now about Sunday baseball. Well, I am inclined to be lenient about that. It is just one form of amusement. If a man gets amusement riding around in an auto on Sunday why shouldn't the man who has just fifty cents or a dollar to spend go to a ball game on Sunday if that is what amuses him?"

The Rt. Rev. Mgr. C. F. Thomas, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, takes just the opposite view. He thinks Washington is no worse than any other American city, despite the charges of the clubwomen and Congressmen.

"LET THE GIRLS SMOKE."

"Well the girls smoke in Washington, but the girls smoke in every city," he replied. "Congressmen should let them alone and stop introducing bills to prohibit them. They should spend their time legislating more important matters and leave such matters to the common sense of the people. The girls wear immediate attire at the Tidal Bathing Beach, but they do that in every city. And it is always just the few who do these things and not the majority of people," concluded Father Thomas.

Mrs. J. W. Friesel, president of the District Federation of Women's Clubs, says: "Washington should be the model city and we should make it so by eliminating such features as modest bathing suits. We cannot cure evil by criticism, but by showing good for evil. Make the good things the most attractive and the public will soon take them up. I believe the newspapers can best do this. Washington I do not think is any worse than most other cities, though."

Mrs. F. L. Ransome, president of the Housekeepers' Alliance, discussed the question thus:

"DEFENDS CITY'S MORALS."

"Washington is no worse than any other city. In fact, I think it is really better than most cities. The so-called flappers are much abused. I think the majority of them are earnest, industrious, and painstaking young girls. The same may be said of the cake-eaters; they are very nice young men. Of course, it is true that many girls are addicted to smoking in public, and I abhor the habit, but the girls smoke in every city. And in some countries it is considered perfectly proper. When I was down in South America I observed that the women smoked in public the same as the men."

BIG COLLEGES WILL GET MANY CENTRAL HIGH GRADUATES

75 Per Cent of 1921 Class to Continue Studies in Higher Institutions.

Seventy-five per cent of the members of the graduating class of Central High School are going to colleges and universities next year, according to a census taken by the school officials. This is the highest percentage ever graduated from the school.

Thirteen boys of the class are going to West Point and Annapolis, having passed entrance requirements or being awarded to these institutions by certificate. One of the graduates, Joseph Ludewig, received a Presidential appointment to the Naval Academy.

MANY GOING TO G. W. U.

The following students won scholarships for a four-year course at George Washington University: Allen W. Boettcher, Thelma Hunt, Harold Wheeler, Walter C. Myers, Lyle W. Ohlander, Isadore Alpher, and Elizabeth H. Bradford.

The scholarship for a four-year course at Trinity College, offered by the Ancient Order of Hibernians, was won by Catherine Mullaly.

A University of Pennsylvania scholarship was won by Jesse A. Morgan and the scholarship offered by the Harvard Alumni Association to the winner of a competitive examination was won by Frank Smith, with Cooper Rhodes as alternate. This scholarship entitles the winner to a four-year course at Harvard in any department of the university.

The Princeton University War Memorial Prize scholarship, offered to the Central students, was won by James W. Lemon.

Scholarships at the following universities were awarded to the following students of Central High School on school records: Catholic University, Francis Trapp; Colgate University, Gordon Kline; Lafayette College, engineering course, Isadore Kaplan; Lafayette College, academic course, Harry Johnson; University of Maryland, Thelma Fryer; Syracuse University, Margaret J. Primm, and Washington and Lee University, Bruce Grayson.

MADE HIGH RATINGS.

The following students of Central have had the highest possible rating of "E" in all subjects required for graduation during the four-year course: Allan Boettcher, Harrison Kidare, Clarence Porter, and Thelma Hunt.

Students receiving the rating of "E" in 75 per cent of their subjects during the four-year course are: Jesse Adams, Isadore Alpher, James Bliss Austin, Mary Barr, Elizabeth Bradford, Elizabeth Paris, Ellen Fay, Thelma Fryer, Alice Hersey, William Jerman, Alice Keliher, William Kline, Mary Kritt, Robert Latimer, Francis Lowe, Joseph Ludewig, Catherine Lois Moorman, Jesse Morgan, Catherine Mullaly, Walter Myers, Josephine Peckham, Margaret Primm, Frances Roach, Sybil Shewmaker, David Merrill Tyree, Harold Wheeler, George Wilson, and Edwin Yates.

The following students, who have not spent their entire four years at Central have the rating of "E" in 75 per cent of their subjects, according to the school records: Norma Kale, Edith Blumberg, Margaret Furse, Katherine Kover, and Helen Wilcox.

Thirteen girls of the graduating class will attend normal schools next year.

TWO CAMP DESERTERS

CHARGED WITH THEFTS

DANVILLE, Va., June 25.—Corporal R. Lee Bernheiser and Walter W. Gilliam, both of headquarters company, Fifty-fourth Infantry, are in jail here awaiting removal by the Government to Camp Myers, from which place they say, they deserted early in June, stealing an automobile at Crawfordville, Ind., and robbing country stores as they came east. The two men were found in a narrow strip of woods in an automobile bearing an Illinois license tag.

The men admitted stealing the car from Crawfordville, Ind., on June 8. The license plates were found. Bernheiser had the key to the brand of car they found standing on the street and they climbed in and inserted the key, the spark responding when they started the car. They came through Indiana and Kentucky, near Canton, N. C., a few miles from Asheville, N. C., they broke open a store and stole food, cigarettes, cigars and smoking tobacco as well as a quantity of clothing.

VA. WOMEN MAY PAY TAX

UP TO DAY OF PRIMARY

RICHMOND, Va., June 25.—That women who are not already registered voters are regarded this year in the light of young men, comparable to light and may therefore pay their capitation tax and register as late as the day of the Democratic primary. A letter by Hon. Lee Moore, auditor of public accounts, to commissioners of revenue and to county and city treasurers throughout the State.

Mr. Lee instructs these officials to assess women and receive their poll taxes up to and including the day of the primary.

Elopers in Trouble Find Clubman Is Life Saver.

HAGERSTOWN, June 25.—They were lost, and in love, and looking for a lawyer who would get them married.

They wandered about the streets of this city for several hours. Maj. J. C. Byron noticed the forlorn expression also on their faces and asked if they were in trouble. They were. They were also in love; the words are synonymous.

The major steered the couple into the Conococheague Club and there found out that they were Miss Elva Ross Zook, Newchester, Pa., and Spencer William McLaughlin, Carlisle, and that they had eloped to this city to get married.

With elaborate ceremonies the marriage was staged and they were sent out on their new voyage with the best wishes of all the members of the Conococheague who were present.

MD. WOMEN START FIGHT TO UPHOLD PRIMARY ELECTION

Voters League Opposes Alleged Effort of Politicians to Break County Law.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., June 25.—Gang politicians, small-fry ward healers, and steam roller legislators will have short shrift in Prince George's county, if the women of the county have anything to say in the matter.

At a meeting of the League of Women Voters of the county, the hand that rocks the cradle doubled into a decidedly formidable looking fist when the report was received that politicians are working to eliminate the primary election in Prince George's county this year.

The following resolution of protest was adopted:

"Whereas, persistent rumors come to us that the political parties are so juggling the political affairs of the county that the primaries will not be held in Prince George's county this year, and as we believe this action is contrary to the intent of the primary law and detrimental to good government and welfare of the county and State; Therefore, be it resolved that we, the League of Women Voters of Prince George's county, are unalterably opposed to such a menace to the rights of citizenship."

ANNAPOLIS MAN WEDS

BALTIMORE TEACHER

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 25.—The wedding of Miss Araminta Brinsfield, of Baltimore, and Mr. George E. Rullman, a member of the bar and city counselor of Annapolis, took place at the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore, Wednesday morning.

The bride is a graduate of the Teachers' College, Johns Hopkins University, and formerly taught in the public schools of Annapolis. The bridegroom is a graduate of St. John's College and the law department of the University of Maryland. Mr. and Mrs. Rullman will reside on Thompson street, Murray Hill, Annapolis.

BRIDE-ELECT BALKS AT PARSONAGE DOOR

ATLANTIC CITY, June 25.—A last-minute change of heart caused the sudden suspension of the wedding of Richard D. Carson, of Pleasantville, to Miss Grace Collins, of Atlantic City. The bridegroom-elect, misdeceived, entered the parsonage of Dr. Thomas J. Cross, pastor of Chelsea Baptist Church. He confided to the clergyman that his bride-elect was on the sidewalk, and he desired information whether it was convenient for the clergyman to marry them at once. Dr. Cross assented and made arrangements for the ceremony. He waited. Then became anxious. He looked out of the parsonage window, and he saw the bridegroom-elect in earnest conversation with the bride-elect, who glanced at the door frequently and somewhat mignifyingly.

Then they separated, and the bridegroom-hot-quite-elect returned to the parsonage. He waited. Then became anxious. He looked out of the parsonage window, and he saw the bridegroom-elect in earnest conversation with the bride-elect, who glanced at the door frequently and somewhat mignifyingly.
